

2010 Stefano Lubiana Pinot Grigio

“DOES this man ever put a foot wrong? This is yet another cracking wine from Stefano Lubiana but the question is whether it should be labelled gris or grigio? Stylistically it lies somewhere between Alsace and Northern Italy, with plenty of freshness and lively fruit on both the nose and palate but also with textural elements and greater complexity added by ageing in French oak. Either way, it's a delightful wine for summer drinking.”

Winsor Dobbin

The Sunday Examiner
January 30th 2011

